Bill Semuluk Fatally Injured

Was Timbering in Main Haulage Way
When Rock Fell Crashed,
Killing Him.

W. Semuluk, miner at the McGillivray Coal Co., was the victim on Monday morning of a cave-in on the main slope of the mine at No. 2 level. A partial cave-in had occurred early in the morning, and Semuluk and a helper had gone in to clear it away when another cave-in occurred, Semuluk being crushed by a piece of rock which mangled his leg. His helper suffered slight injuries, but was able to walk out. A rescue crew was immediately gathered and, under the supervision of Pit Boss J. O. C. McDonald, the fall of rock was cleared away after laborious effort, when it was seen that Semuluk's condition was critical. The time of the accident was 11:30, and he was brought to the surface as quickly as the rescue work would permit.

Dr. R. P. Borden, mine surgeon, was immediately on hand, and so serious was Semuluk's condition from shock that it was decided to fix him up as comfortably as possible in the wash house at the mine, here he was attempting to move him to hospital. Every means was taken to revive him, and at about 3 p.m. he was conveyed on a truck to the hospital, the rescue crew under J. H. McIntosh supporting the stretcher so as to save jarring the sufferer. In less than fifteen minutes after his admittance to hospital he passed away.

He is survived by his wife and one child, and had been employed at the mine for several years.

Verdict Accidental Death
A coronor's inquest into the death of Semuluk was held on Tuesday afternoon. Dr. Borden told of arriving at the mine and Semuluk was suffering to such an extent from shock that he was placed in the emergency room, where everything possible was done to relieve the shock before attempting to transport him to the hospital. The doctor remained with him, and at about 2:30 decided to have him moved, which was done with the utmost care. Deceased's thigh shattered and his pelvis was badly fractured, his injuries being of such a nature that he had no chance to survive. At the mine when he was brought out he was conscious, but lapsed into unconsciousness later.

Anton Ledsky, working partner of deceased, told of the fall of rock, how it pinned himself and Semuluk, and of his release by Pit Boss McDonald and John Petronik. Ledsky's foot was caught, but he was able to walk while Semuluk was pinned fast so that other men had to be summoned before he could be released.

Pit Boss McDonald told of examining the place, and of Semuluk and himself discussing the work to be done, the deceased deciding that it would be safe to proceed with the work. The accident happened shortly before noon.

The Miners' Union was represented by D. Gillespie; the Mines Branch by Inspector Moses Johnson, and the McGillivray Coal Co. by the general manager, G. Kellock.

The following verdict was submitted: We, the jury, empaneled to enquire into the death of William Semuluk, killed on Oct. 28 at McGillivray mine, find that he came to his death by a fall of rock on the main slope opposite No. 15 room. We find there is no blame attached to anyone. We would recommend that in future trips he not be allowed to run on a slope while repair work on ore-ways and timbering is being done.

The jury were Steve Klejko, Wm. Evans, V. Gebino, D. Randall, A. B. Westworth, A. H. O'Neill.

ENJOYED MILD CLIMATE OF VANCOUVER ISLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Whiteside Returned Sunday from Auto Tour Through Western States.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. S. Whiteside returned on Sunday from an extended auto tour, which took them as far south as Portland, and coming north again they made the trip across to Victoria, spending some time enjoying the beauties and the mild climate of Vancouver Island, which Mr. Whiteside states they pretty well covered from north to south and east to west. The logging industry is very important on the island, while coal mining and the fisheries give employment to large numbers. He also enjoyed some good fishing, though a little late for catching the famous Tyee salmon which are so eagerly sought by devotees of the piscatorial art. They met a number of old friends and acquaintances there, which helped to make their stay more interesting, and though rain was quite frequent on the island, yet the distinct change from the high altitude of the mountains was greatly enjoyed.

Harvest Festival St. Alban's Church

Choir Adds Greatly to Brightness of Service by Fine Singing of Anthem.

Harvest festival services at St. Alban's, Coleman, and St. Luke's, Blairmore, were conducted by the Rev. A. D. Currie on Sunday. At St. Alban's the church was filled for the evening service, and the church presented a beautiful appearance decorated with the fruits of the harvest, the work being carried out by Mesdames Currie, Hancock and Blower. The anthem, "O How Amiable Are Thy Dwellings," by the choir evoked very favorable comment following the service. Mrs. Jackson was the organist.

On Monday evening the annual dinner was served in the parish hall by the Women's Auxiliary, and they were deserving of the highest praise for the splendid repast which was enjoyed by a large number of members and friends.

BLAIRMORE SOLICITOR OPENS CALGARY OFFICE

He took a very active part in community affairs, and was a warden of St. Luke's, Blairmore. Prior to his departure a dance was held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Mackenzie in Greenhill hotel, at which were present a large number of people from the Pass towns. The dance was held by the Crows Nest Pass Golf and Country Club.

YOUTHFUL BURGLARS

Returning from night shift after midnight on Monday two suspicious figures, were noticed by miners who made a hasty retreat from Bobbitt's store, West Coleman. The place had been entered, but it is reported only some candy was stolen. The two persons retreated in a westerly direction. Later information from Chief Houghton stated he had caught the guilty ones, and that they will come under the Juvenile Delinquency Act for trial.

Navy League Aids Merchant Marine

Widows and Orphans Do Not Receive Any Government Assistance.

The Rev. Fred Cooke, organizing secretary of the Navy League, who has been in Coleman collecting subscriptions for Canada's national magazine of yachting and shipping, and donations to the Navy League of Alberta, wishes to thank the citizens for their assistance, $2000 being raised in the town for the Alberta division.

The Navy League assists the widows and orphans of the men of the merchant marine, since they do not receive assistance from the government. The League also looks after the sailors' homes and institutes in all the larger Canadian ports and attends to the welfare of the seamen while they are ashore. In addition to this, the League trains young men and boys, helping to make better Canadian citizens of them.

The Alberta division is required to raise $8000 as its quota of the $250000 budget of the Navy League. It is hoped that this amount will be raised as quickly as possible with the combined assistance of the people throughout the province.

LEAVING FOR DRUMHELLER

Mrs. Alex. McKinnon and children are leaving for Drumheller to reside where Mr. McKinnon has begun for some weeks. He was employed as fire boss at the McGillivray mine for some years, and it is with regret that many friends in Coleman see them leave for Drumheller, for they are the type of citizens that Coleman can ill afford to lose.

A Contribution To Canada

Out of the welter of charge and denial and appeals to racial and religious prejudice which characterized the recent Arm River by-election in Saskatchewan one newspaper despatch from a special correspondent vividly impressed the writer of this column.

In the course of his journeying around the constituency reporting the many meetings held, the staff correspondent of the paper in question had occasion to stop at the hotel in one of the smaller villages. The hotel was not of the usual type found in prairie villages. The rounds he describes as "a bower of floral beauty," a close approach to a greenhouse. The ceiling was beautifully beamed and paneled, the proprietor having laid out five different plans for it before he felt satisfied. The hotel was scrupulously clean, the meals well cooked and nicely served by attractive help.

The correspondent was curious and he entered into conversation with the proprietor, one Kasper Haberlach by name. The secret of the beautiful woodwork was soon discovered in the fact that, in his youth, the proprietor had been a cabinetmaker, and had a love for fine woods and the beauty of fine lines. His love for the beautiful also found expression in his flowers. Re-attending his story, Kasper Haberlach told how he came to Canada sixteen years ago, in his early manhood. Today he is the father to seven daughters and two sons, most of whom were born in Canada.

Proud as Kasper Haberlach is of his attractive hotel, it is his family in which he rejoices. Particularly is he proud of their school attainments. One of the Misses Haberlach led her school for three years in succession. The youngest girl, now aged seven, was sought by Chateaufort promoters a couple of years ago because of her talents as an entertainer. Kasper Haberlach, himself, speaks six languages fluently, but, says the correspondent, "I think he is probably most proud of the fact that his children all speak English indistinguishably from any other Canadian children."

Mr. Haberlach has a praiseworthy method of inculcating thrift in his family. His daughters help in the hotel. "I have always made it a rule," he said, "to pay my children wages daily for their help in the business, just as I would strangers. They are encouraged to save for education or business or whatever they desire."

Now what we find so encouraging in this whole story is that it seems to provide an answer to many good people who are greatly concerned over the subject of immigration. Here is a man from a foreign country, whose mother tongue is not English, but who, coming to Canada, brings with him an inborn sense of beauty, skilled craftsmanship, habits of thrift, high ideals of home life and citizenship, and a keen realization of the value of education, a man anxious that his children shall have the best that life can offer and determined that, to the full extent of his ability, they shall enjoy those privileges.

In this story from real life today, we also find a satisfactory answer for those who are inclined to question the efficiency of our schools and educational system, and their ability to perform the task of largely assimilating new comers from other lands into our common Canadian family.

The fact cannot but be realized and accepted that Kasper Haberlach brought with him to Canada something of far greater value to this country than money, and that the contribution he is making to the upbuilding of this Dominion is something more than, and far beyond, the mere making of money through the management of a well regulated hostelry for the comfort and convenience of the travelling public.

In the evolution and development of the Canadian people we require all the beauty, all the craftsmanship, all the talent, all the thrift, and the full recognition of the real things of life, that all the peoples of all the world can contribute. Canada does not desire to be a mere copy of any other nation or people, even though that nation and people be the best in the world today. Our ambition is loftier than that; as a Dominion our ambition is to rise still higher, and to develop on this northern half of the American continent a type of citizen superior to all that have preceded us—a citizenship that shall be God-fearing, healthy, industrious and happy, reveling in all that is beautiful in art, music, literature and nature, and finding a real joy and contentment in seeing our work well done.

And to all who have a contribution to make in working out this pattern of a strong and ideal Canadian citizenship, this Dominion should extend a wholehearted welcome.

Canada's Progress Steady

Growth Not Just a Boom Says Hon. James Macdonald

Canada is progressing steadily. By almost every standard that can be applied, her economic condition is becoming increasingly satisfactory as time goes on and the people are now at a very high level of national well being.

So says Hon. James Macdonald, minister of trade and commerce in the federal cabinet, in a report given in England of the conditions now reigning in the Dominion. "There is a sound basis of prosperity in this country," he says. "There have been no great booms unfounded on natural development or unjustified in the light of indications. There is an increasing possession of comfort and conveniences of life among the people of Canada—there is a sound credit in their banks. There is prosperity in the air and happiness in the homes of the Dominion."

The amount of construction of new buildings throughout the Dominion in the last year has been phenomenal, his report shows. "Yet there has been no outstripping the needs of this rapidly developing commonwealth. The country is not as in the days of the boom period which was climaxed in 1912, building any great railway lines in advance of population. Rather, construction in all lines is proceeding in response to our needs. It is a healthy progress."

New Serum For Burns

Recent Discovery Leaves Skin Un-Blemished Surgeons Are Told
A new method of treating burns, causing quick healing with absence of scars, discolored skin or other blemishes, was described before the convention of the National Association of Police and Fire Surgeons and medical directors of Civil Service Commission.

The method, as detailed by Dr. Stephen R. Monteth, of Nyack, N.Y., and discussed by Dr. John J. White, of New York, involves the use of "normal horse serum" made from the blood of horses under a newly discovered method. The serum is sprayed with an atomizer on the burned skin surfaces and it is said has produced astonishing results.

TO THE MOTHERS

OF ALL PALE GIRLS

If Your Daughter Shows Signs Of Anemia a Tonic Is Needed

Anemia is simply a lack of blood. It is one of the most common and at the same time most dangerous troubles from which growing girls suffer. It is common because the blood so often becomes impoverished during development, when girls often overwork and overstudy. It is dangerous because of the seriousness of its approach and because of its tendency to grow steadily worse. Every growing girl should occasionally take a tonic to ward off this insidious trouble.

It is because of their powerful action in rebuilding the blood that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have made a world-wide reputation. The case of Miss Claire Sullivan, Pincher Creek, Alta., amply proves the value of this medicine. Miss Sullivan says: "During my school days, I suffered a great deal from thin and watery blood. I was continually weak and tired; my appetite was poor, my sleep unrefreshing and I was troubled with backaches. To make matters worse, I was attacked with acute appendicitis and the operation left me in a very weakened state. My mother, learning of the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, had me take them and after using them for some time I can say the result was simply wonderful, as they completely restored my health, and now when opportunity occurs I always recommend these pills to weak, pale girls suffering as I did."

You can get the pills from your druggist, or mail at 50 cents a box from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Giant Guns For Naval Base

Constructed As Experiment During War But Never Used

Three giant guns constructed experimentally during the War have arrived at Singapore from England to form part of the naval base's defence. They are 18-inch weapons nearly sixty feet long, which weigh 150 tons each and fire a 3,333 lb. projectile. These three guns were the only ones of their kind constructed. They were mounted on naval units for use in bombarding German positions, but the war ended before they could be effectively employed.

Result Of Experiment Will Be Interesting

Psychologists Study Effect Of Noise On Human System

"City" rats and "country" rats are being raised at Colgate University, Hamilton, N.Y., and the "city" rats are developing nervousness.

The effect of noise on health and activity is what Dr. Donald Laird, head of the psychology department of the university, wants to discover. All the rats are free from molestation by cats and the consequent nervous strain.

In exposing the rats to varying conditions of sound, or lack of sound, Dr. Laird hopes to determine definitely the effect of noise on human beings.

Rats are used in the experiments because, Dr. Laird explains they live 30 times as fast as men and in a month their growth parallels the growth and development of a human being in 30 years. The rats in this experiment are white.

The "country cousins" are kept in a sound-proof room while the "city" rats are housed in a room containing a tuning fork operated by electricity. The tuning fork is said to produce sounds approximately the noise of a busy city.

Food containers and food are the same for both groups so that differences in feeding may not account for any differences which develop in the nature of the two groups. The health of the rats is carefully guarded. Both groups are given an ultraviolet ray bath once a week to prevent rickets.

The rats have been under observation for eight months and Dr. Laird reports that the "city" rats, exposed to noise, have shown signs of nervousness and loss of appetite.

An Oil For All Men—The sailor, the fisherman, the lumberman, the outdoor laborer, and all who are exposed to injury and the elements will find that the new product of the true and faithful friend, To ease pain, relieve colds, dress wounds, subvert the drugstore of rural life could be eliminated, was outlined by Hon. Donald G. McKenzie, newly appointed minister of mines and natural resources, in an address at Viridian, Man.

Manitoba Hydro Extensions

Comprehensive Plan For Extending Electrical Power To Cover Rural Districts

An extensive hydro development programme which would bring electrical power to practically every town in Manitoba and to farms where by use of electricity in its many ways the drudgery of rural life could be eliminated, was outlined by Hon. Donald G. McKenzie, newly appointed minister of mines and natural resources, in an address at Viridian, Man.

Mr. McKenzie, who will be in charge of the provincial government's hydro development plans, outlined the programme at a meeting of the United Farmers of Manitoba, Brandon District.

Mr. McKenzie announced that the government has decided to present legislation providing for the payment of one-half the capital cost of all transmission lines, including a line to Brandon; new lines to all towns in Manitoba; all farm lines, and lines already constructed.

The legislation will also provide facilities which will permit of the construction of transmission lines to all parts of Manitoba within seven years. Under the plans, very low rates are assured, said Mr. McKenzie, for the rural users of power.

Manitoba Sanatorium

Sale Of Christmas Seals To Be Held This Year To Help Along the Good Work

The Manitoba Sanatorium at Ninette, Man., is launching again this year its sale of Christmas Seals. The Christmas seal fund last year made possible the purchase of a portable X-ray outfit, and up to September 1st, financed the general expenses of twelve "missionary journeys" for the examination of people who had been in contact with tuberculosis, or who were suspected, or had symptoms. Three thousand people were examined, all known to be "contacts" or "suspects," a work very much worth while.

The 1928 seal money will be used to continue and extend this work and may also help with a very special work—to provide sanatorium care for children. The Province of Manitoba has not one bed especially provided for tuberculosis child. There are children definitely ill, and children under par and infected who will soon be ill. To care for these sick children, to build up the almost-sick children into health and prevent their lapses into disease, is one of the best of all good works. Seals may help to do this. Prevention is better than cure, cheaper and more joyful in every way.

Christmas Seals are sold in sheets of 100 for $1.00; a seal for a cent. You can assist greatly in a most worthy cause by purchasing a sheet of these seals, and use them on all letters sent out during the Yuletide season. Those willing to help may obtain these seals by writing to the Manitoba Sanatorium, at Ninette, Man. Dr. David A. Stewart is the medical superintendent.

An Oil That Is Prized Everywhere—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil was put upon the market without any flourish over forty years ago. It was put up to meet the wants of a small section, but as soon as its merits became known it had a whole continent for a field, and it is now known and prized throughout this continent. There is nothing equal to it.

Suggest Shorter Names

Paris Society Has Idea It Would Mean Great Saving

The Society for the Saving of Time, a newly founded French efficiency organization, is for the shortening of names.

The group would like to see Parliament pass a law limiting family names to five letters and Christian names to two. They figure that in the business world alone millions of dollars could be saved annually in salaries of typists and wear on machines if names were held down.

They suggest that Jo, Ed, Al, Lu, and Jack, as well as high sounding names like Joseph, Edward, Albert, Lucien and Jack.

NEW LEAGUE OF GREAT POWERS NOW PROPOSED

Colorado Springs, Colo.—A new League of Nations composed of great powers only and including the United States, was proposed today by Dr. D. Blumenfeld, editor of the London Express and head of the British Journalistic Mission touring this country under the auspices of the Carnegie endowment for international peace.

The present League of Nations, he said, has become hopelessly ineffective and a danger to international relations.

Blumenfeld said the League was hamstrung by its own cumbersome constitution and was now a "germ carrying talking machine" and a "grown bureaucratic debating society which is a fulcrum for every crank idea."

In its place, he proposed a League of Nations which would be the result of spontaneous agreement between Great Britain and the United States, without elaborate treaties. Each of the powers, under his plan, would keep order among the minor states.

"There's no country in the world that wants peace so much and so ardently as Great Britain," said the London publisher. "Great Britain still feels her enormous losses in men, money and material and the disruption of generations of trade connections through the world. She wants a chance to recover from the catastrophe that not only overtook her but the rest of the world."

B.C. Heads Winners

Canadian Egg Laying Contest Just Completed At Ottawa

Ottawa, Ont.—Fourteen hundred hens have just completed 51 weeks' laying in the Canadian and Ontario egg laying contests at the experimental farm here. Premier honors in the Canadian contest go to a pen of White Leghorns owned by T. H. Haywood, of Langford, B.C., the ten hens laying 2,374 eggs for a total of 2-829.4 points. W. Bradley, owner of the second pen, White Leghorns, also hails from Langford. His birds laid 2,286 eggs and secured 2,220.5 points. Ontario claims third place through another pen of White Leghorns, owned by J. H. Jackson, of Port Dover. This pen laid 2,100 eggs and scored 2,178.3 points.

The 800 birds in the Canadian contest laid 131,999 eggs in the 51 weeks, which now constitutes the contest year.

Arm River Election

Dr. Waugh, Liberal Candidate Wins By Narrow Majority

Regina, Sask.—The government candidate, Dr. J. T. Waugh, captured the vacant seat in the Arm River by-election, having a majority of some fifty odd votes over his opponent, Stewart Adrian. Owing to the favorable weather and the unprecedented interest taken in the campaign, a heavy vote was polled. The total number of voters on the list is in the neighborhood of 6,000, and the total votes polled amounted to 5,617, or 91 per cent. of the possible vote.

Fight With Wolf

Chicoutimi, Que.—A wolf driven from the woods by hunger attacked a 70-year-old farmer, Joseph Girard, a resident of Ste. Rose de Lima, Saguenay district. Ten minutes after he had grappled and fought with the animal, the septuagenarian won the fight and the wolf lay dead. The man's only weapon was a staunch stick.

Overcomes Gravity Force

Strange Claim Made In England By Young Scientist

London, Eng.—R. H. Tate, young scientist, claims to have overcome the laws of gravity, according to despatches recently from West Hartlepool to the Daily Express.

The experiment was demonstrated in a secret laboratory test, when a piece of metal—absolutely unattached to anything—was suspended in mid-air, the despatches said.

Tate placed on the floor the metal which was said to resemble aluminum but was of a composition heretofore unknown, and placed a similar piece of metal above it in the air. The metal remained suspended—not for just a moment, but for as long as Tate left it there.

"I have eliminated the force of gravity," Tate said. "The metal is not insulated and it is thought that the practical possibilities of the discovery are apparent. I have discovered the new force from known forces, by eliminating gravity from the metal. The composition of the metal is known only to myself, but among its possibilities is the controlling of aircraft from the ground."

Experts said that, if true, the discovery would be the greatest in centuries.

Straits Clear Of Ice

No Ice Yet Reported To Be Seen On Hudson Straits

Ottawa, Ont.—No ice is reported in Hudson Straits, according to the latest radio message from the wireless stations there. A few icebergs and growlers have been seen, while there is a film of ice on the lake shore, but in the seaway proper, the ice has not yet appeared. The Canadian government seamer, Montcalm, with the party in charge of Major N. B. McLean, of Ottawa, is at present lying off Button Islands, at the extreme tip of Labrador. Major McLean will remain there until all navigation in the straits has been closed.

The string of wireless stations along the straits and on to Churchill, are in close touch with each other, and with the Federal Department of Marine and Fisheries in Ottawa. Wireless developments have been aided by the establishment of a private station, at Mistake Island, 150 miles north of Fort Churchill, by the North American Mining Exploration Company, and another at Baker Lake, in from Chesterfield Inlet.

Members Of Prairie Wheat Pools Attend Ceremony At Port Arthur

Port Arthur, Ont.—Pool terminal elevator number seven, the world's largest single unit elevator, with a capacity of 7,200,000 bushels of grain was officially opened in the presence of forty members and directors of the Saskatchewan, Alberta, and Manitoba wheat pools.

A. J. McPhail, president of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Wheat Producers, Ltd., officiated at the opening and with him were C. H. Burnell, president Manitoba Pool and L. D. Newbitt, representing the Alberta Pool. The elevator is owned and operated by the Saskatchewan Pool Elevators Ltd., with headquarters at Regina. The building is 1,100 feet long, has 225 storage tanks, and 558 inter-space and outer space bins. The tanks are 125 feet high and the work house is 210. The work was done in the record time of 149 days from the time the first concrete was poured.

May Have New Trial

Toronto, Ont.—Hon. W. H. Price, attorney-general for Ontario, announced that the Crown would bend every effort to facilitate any action undertaken by Wm. Haskins, of London, who was recently sentenced to prison for five years on a charge of manslaughter, towards securing a new trial, or securing his release on bail pending a revision of his case.

Wheat Pool Makes Denial

Are Not Holding Up Wheat Shipments In Order To Raise Prices

Winnipeg, Man.—E. B. Ramsay, secretary of the Manitoba Wheat Pool, has denied charges that the Canadian Wheat Pool is holding up shipments of wheat, and thus increasing the cost of flour and bread in England.

"Nobody in Canada is satisfied with the present level of wheat," declared Mr. Ramsay. However, we are not retarding shipments, but on the other hand, are not free sellers on the present price levels," he added.

From the point of view of the Canadian farmer, Mr. Ramsay continued, the prices are considered too low at present and "we find that the non-pool members are also of the same opinion." The non-pool members, added, are storing their grain, awaiting acceptable prices.

World's Record Cow

Saskatchewan Cow Holds World's Championship As Butter Fat Producer

Moose Jaw.—According to official figures received here a Saskatchewan cow now holds the world's championship as a butterfat producer.

She is Canary Korydyke Alcatraz, and is owned by Ben H. Thomson, Boharm, who is famed throughout western Canada for his livestock records. During the official test period of 305 days the cow produced 1,089 pounds of butter fat, which is 106 pounds higher than any previous records.

Also during the official test period the champion cow produced 28,396 pounds of milk, which gave an average butter fat test of 4.04. The cows was milked three times a day, and was fed on feed grown on Braburn Farm, Boharm.

WOULD SHIP MARITIME COAL BY BAY ROUTE

Winnipeg, Man.—Maritime provinces were considering the possibility that Maritime coal could be shipped to western Canadian points through Churchill on the completion of the Hudson's Bay Railway, Hance J. Logan, H.C., of Amherst, N.S., newly appointed director of the Canadian National Railways, stated here.

Mr. Logan said that serious opposition to the Hudson's Bay Railway project had never developed in the Maritime and there was a feeling which he shared that whatever might be the success of the route for grain shipments the development in mining and colonization which it would encourage, would justify its construction. It had been one of the fortunate aspects of railway construction in Canada that some development had always taken place to justify the work.

Those interested in shipping Maritime coal to Churchill believed that many grain boats would be going back to the Bay which could stop at Sydney, Cape Breton and take on loads of coal.

Mr. Logan said Canadian National officials would confer with the Canadian Pacific Railway with respect to the Peace River Railway as soon as Sir Henry Thornton returned from England. He was convinced, he said, that the Peace River District formed a very important part of Canada and he hoped the negotiations would be successful. He had been asked about the likelihood of the C.N.R. joining the C.P.R. in the ownership of the Alberta Northern Lines. Sir Henry was expected back during the next two weeks.

COLONIZATION PROBLEMS

C. J. S. DENNIS, C.M.G.

An outstanding authority on Canadian immigration and colonization problems, he has recently concluded important plans with the British Government for the movement of British settlers to Canada.

Planning New Air Routes

Russia Wishes To Supplement Inadequate Railroad Service

Moscow.—More than 5,000 miles of new air lines will be opened in Soviet Russia next spring by the Soviet Air Transportation Company, "Dobrolet." The planning work is under way. The lines in every case are being laid out to supplement inadequate railroad service in the east and southeast.

Siberia, for the first time, will be connected with the European network of passenger and mail air routes, which now extend to Moscow. A daily service, 2,000 miles eastward to Irkutsk, near the Mongolian border, will be started in May in co-operation with the German Luft Hansa. With night flying, the distance will be covered in from 26 to 30 hours. It now takes five days by train.

Another air line will connect Alma Ata (where Leon Trotsky is in exile) with Novosibirsk over the route of the uncompleted Turkestan-Siberian railway. Several new lines are planned in the Volga Valley. German Junkers planes will be used up on all the lines.

Federal Assistance Needed

Premier Toime Of B.C. Thinks Government Should Aid In Building Roads

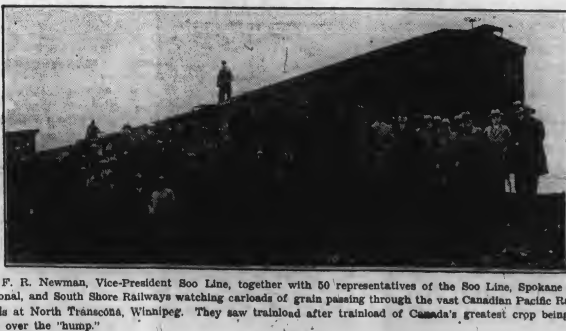

Vancouver, B.C.—The Federal government should again initiate the policy in effect between 1910 and 1925 whereby the provinces could earn grants of assistance in building trunk roads, Premier S. F. Toime said in the course of an address to the Vancouver Board of Trade.

The Premier said it was time the Federal government recognized the trend of modern times and give assistance to the provinces in the matter of roads. The Dominion government, he remarked, through the post-office and other departments was one of the biggest users of roads.

Four Killed In Plane Crash

Tupson, Ariz.—Four youths are dead here following a crash when a Ryan Broughman monoplane plunged against the side of a mountain while in full flight. The crash occurred when the plane, soaring over the Catalina mountains in search of Bill Hyatt, 18, reported there, hit an air pocket. The ship caught fire after crashing and was demolished. Its occupants were burned to death.

INTERESTED IN HANDLING OF GRAIN CROPS

F. R. Newman, Vice-President Soo Line, together with 50 representatives of the Soo Line, Spokane International, and South Shore Railways watching carloads of grain passing through the vast Canadian Pacific Railway yards at North Transcona, Winnipeg. They saw trainloads after trainloads of Canada's greatest crop being hauled over the "hump."

Holding Swine Club Tests

Winning Teams Will Go To Royal Winter Fair

Winnipeg, Man.—Preliminary arrangements have been completed by the Canadian National Railways for the interprovincial boys' and girls' swine club competition, which will be held on November 21, at the Royal Winter Fair, Toronto. Six provinces will be represented this year and the results of the provincial competitions will decide the teams which are to go to Toronto.

Teams from each province will be the guests of the National system during the week of the Royal Fair, and the entertainment of the boys and girls will include a trip to Niagara Falls and a visit to the Donalds Farms, just outside of Toronto.

In the past two years teams from Roland, Manitoba, have won and successfully defended the W. D. Robb Trophy, which is emblematic of interprovincial championship. The cup is held by the winning team for one year. Gold medals are presented to the winning team from each province.

Will Dredge For Gold

Syndicate Will Operate On River Near Medicine Hat

Medicine Hat, Alta.—A syndicate composed of local men, assisted by Vancouver and United States capital, has leased ninety miles of river front below this city and is conducting tests preparatory to dredging the gravel for gold. Some thirty years ago there was considerable activity of this nature along the river, the old hand panning process being followed with returns averaging four dollars a day. For experts, George L. Holms, San Francisco engineer, is in charge of the tests.

JOURNALISM OF TODAY IS OF A HIGH STANDARD

New York.—Frank B. Noyes, of the Washington Star, president of the Associated Press, told a group of representative industrialists here that newspapers as a whole were "worthy of the confidence of their readers."

Speaking at the fifth annual conference of major industries held at Columbia University, Mr. Noyes said he thought everyone familiar with journalism in the last fifty years would agree "that in accuracy of statement, in breadth of information, in ethical standards, there had been a steady progress upward."

Mr. Noyes, appearing as the representative of the publishing industry, said that the reports of newspapers and press associations did contain "many inaccuracies" since they were the products of human beings; but he gave assurance that "the intention is to fairly and accurately depict the situation described."

He defended modern journalism against forms of attack and criticism, which he said were unjust and unwarranted.

"As it is I am serenely conscious of the fact that we are doing our level best day in and day out, to keep in the middle of the road, having no partiality for any party and church, any economic theory or any cause or man whatever, and on the other hand no hostility to any of them."

"I know that this is true of the Associated Press, and I believe it is also true of the other large press associations."

"There have been venal newspaper men as there have been venal doctors, lawyers, business men and even venal politicians, but God be thanked that the newspaper crooks are few and far between."

REPORT ON WORK AT CHURCHILL FOR THIS SEASON

Ottawa, Ont.—The department of railways and canals has with issue a statement giving full particulars of the season's work at Fort Churchill. S. W. MacLachlan, chief engineer of the department, has just returned from an inspection tour and the statement will be based upon his report.

It is understood that the construction on the harbor works is proceeding and the entire program for the season was accomplished.

The port will not be ready for shipping as quickly as the railway, but this is said to be unavoidable unless the government spends a large sum of money in overcoming the difficulties in building due to the present inaccessibility of the harbor.

When the railway is completed it will be easier to take in supplies and workmen.

There were no accidents this season and the department is pleased with the progress being made.

Five Thousand Miners

Remaining In Canada

Have Until February To Return Under Special Arrangements

Winnipeg, Man.—Of the 8,500 British miners who came to Canada this year to work in the harvest fields under government auspices, 3,800 have returned home, according to officials concerned in their handling.

A considerable number still are in Winnipeg waiting for jobs in their various trades, while farm placements for those still in the country have been arranged in many cases.

The special arrangements under which the men have been permitted their return to the Old Country up to next February, after which official responsibility will cease.

Would Use Submarine

To Explore Antarctic

Wilkins Hopes To Have Assistance Of British Government

Montevideo, Uruguay.—A Antarctic exploration by submarine is a possibility which is being considered by Sir George Hubert Wilkins. He spoke of this just before he sailed from here on the Whaler Hektor for Deception Island, where he intends to establish a base for exploration by air of large spaces in the Antarctic.

He indicated that it might be two years before he was ready to undertake the submarine exploration and that he hoped the British Government would then be willing to aid him. The boat would be used to gain data on ocean currents and sea life and chemistry.

Clean Law Administration

British Columbia Will Not Resort To Use Of "Stool Pigeons"

Victoria, B.C.—"Stool pigeons" must not be employed by British Columbia provincial police under a policy announced by Hon. F. H. Royle, attorney-general.

"The police of this province are going to operate on a clean, above-board basis and the use of stool pigeons will never form a part of their methods," Mr. Royle said, adding, "The police will never use agents to persuade persons to break the law in order to get convictions. Practices of that kind cannot be tolerated."

Want To Find Owners

Philadelphia.—The United States government has joined forces with District Attorney Monaghan, who is directing the grand jury investigation of rum runners and police corruption, in his efforts to identify the mysterious owners of 16 bank accounts, totalling nearly $12,000,000. Monaghan believes the money was deposited by bootleggers, and the federal government wants to determine whether income taxes were paid on funds.

U.S. Residents Here Can Vote

Toronto, Ont.—United States citizens resident in Canada have the right to exercise their franchise in the approaching presidential election, it was stated at the Toronto consulate here. They will be permitted to vote at the various United States consulates throughout the Dominion.

Ottawa.—An official inquiry into the wreck of the Western Canada Airways plane, which took fire following a crash near Calgary, will be instituted by officers of the Highway air station, it was announced by the Department of National Defence.

BUY A POPPY

Sunday, Nov. 11, is the tenth anniversary of Armistice Day. Britishers will not need to be reminded of the significance of the day, of those whose lives we commemorate. To speak of their sacrifice would be superfluous, for their record lives in our hearts.

It is a day that cannot be forgotten; in some more than others it impresses itself on the heart and the mind. In all parts of the British Empire the poignant memory of the war is impressed in thousands of homes by the fact that loved ones "never" came back, but returned to the frailty of human clay in the battlefields. There was no opportunity of observing the last sad rites over their graves, but their memory will always endure.

And while we "revere" the memory of the dead, we have a duty to the living. Many a man who survived came back to a broken career, or incapacitated for active work. They passed into sanitariums, some into homes for the blind, while employment for others was found in the Vetscraft shops, where are made the poppies which are sold every Armistice Day. The poppy is an emblem which symbolizes the sacrifice of war, made immortal in that fine poem:

"In Flanders Fields the poppies blow

The local branch of the Canadian Legion will through its girl canvassers ask every person in Coleman to buy a poppy. In so doing you are buying something that has been made by soldiers unable to follow their regular employment, and at the same time contributing to the comfort of invalid soldiers who are inmates of Keith sanitarium, for the profits derived from the sale of these poppies in Coleman is to be donated to the soldiers in that institution in response to an appeal on their behalf.

There is not a soul in Coleman but who will cheerfully respond to the invitation to "Buy a Poppy."

DUMPING ASHES ON ROADS

Complaints have been made to this office for which there is complete justification. In six places in less than an eighth of a mile on the main highway through Coleman ashes containing nails or other scraps have been dumped with absolute indifference or in defiance of the by-laws of the town. People guilty of this practice need a visit from the town constable to warn them against continuing this slovenly practice, and the committee of the council responsible for the upkeep of the roads should make it very plain to offenders that this cannot be permitted and that drastic action will follow further offences.

Tires have been punctured from this cause since the new coating of gravel has been put on the highway, and this has happened to townspeople's cars as well as tourists passing through. There are some people who have not the least element of civic pride in their makeup, and the only remedy is to invoke the penalty of the law. A newspaper dislikes the task of calling people to task for offences which should not be allowed, but there is just cause why the attention of the council should be directed towards these complaints in order to eliminate the cause.

Soon the suspense of the presidential election in the United States will be over. It is pretty much a battle of the "wet" and the "drys," with a little of religious bigotry to inflame people. It is very amusing to read of critics of some prominence who state that they have no score against Al. Smith on religious grounds, because he is a Catholic. Why should they mention it at all?

Speaking of inexperienced persons driving cars, which is the worst—the person who doesn't know how to handle a car or the inebriated person behind the wheel? On Saturday evening some men were stopped by a provincial policeman and ordered to step out of their car. They were so drunk they couldn't walk straight, states an eye-witness. Men such as these should be refused a license, and should have a sentence, as well, for some innocent person's life might be sacrificed with drunken men at large on the highways in swift moving motor cars.

A man is no bigger than the terms he thinks in. If he schemes and labors to possess a corner lot in Grassville, old age will find him possessed of the lot, but the same energy, harnessed by a greater vision, would make him the owner of a railroad. One man envisions the job as a whole and another thinks of bolts and screws; and one of them is made superintendent while the other remains a laborer.—Robert Quillen.

Mrs. J. Scott returned on Friday from two months' visit with relatives in various parts of Eastern Canada.

Mr. Roland Laslett was a visitor to Calgary over the week-end, returning on Wednesday.

W. S. Purvis spent the past two weeks at Regina, Moose Jaw and other Saskatchewan points in the interests of International Coal Co. Ltd.

Constable Houghton was a visitor to Fernie last week as a witness in the Supreme Court, to give evidence in connection with a divorce case there.

Patients in hospital include C. P. Koford of Crows Nest, with an injured leg; Mr. Buynes for medical treatment, and Mr. Batter for an operation.

An error was made last week in the advt. of Antrobus' Shoe Store. Three pairs of Wood's Lavender Line Hose for men were quoted at $2.50, whereas it should have been $2.00. The bargain still holds good, so get your's while the opportunity is open.

The Journal has received some interesting clippings from Mr. Brennan, forwarded by his daughter from Detroit, being the impressions of Mrs. J. E. Leslie on her trip through the Canadian Rockies in September. They serve to show the popularity of this mountain region of Canada.

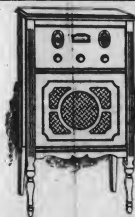

Take care of the cents and the dollars will take care of themselves. But one can become so absorbed in taking care of cents that bigger things which count for more in the sum total are often overlooked. Some have a peanut view—others the vision that embraces much wider territory.

A grand piano and violin recital will be given at Blairmore on Tuesday evening next by the pupils of Miss Madeleine Chardon and Mr. W. H. Moser, assisted by Mrs. G. Steves, Mr. Edgar Rhys and others at the Orpheum theatre, Blairmore. Quite a number from Coleman intend attending, as there are several of the pupils from here taking part.

"Pretty near got 'im that time, Donnie!" cried Andy gleefully. "If you can get 'im to lift 'is jaw off 'is shoulder, send in your right!" Andy's hands were shaking with excitement, while Donald was cool and collected. "Let me go after him, Andy," he begged; "I can whip him at his own game."

"No, no!" admonished Andy, "keep on as you are. Don't try to swap punches with 'im!"

Garrieau's seconds were working over him feverishly. Pursell leaned over the heavily-breathing champion, his evil face sick with apprehension. "What'd I tell yer?" he exclaimed. "They've stuck a ring in on us; do feller ain't no amachor! If he beats ya we're both bums! Foul him dis round, for de—!" he finished with a savage oath.

At the beginning of the third round Garrieau charged his wusie adversary like a mad bull. Donald easily side-stepped him and he plunged into the ropes. As he rebounded, Donald landed a left and danced safely away without reprisal.

"You can do pretty footwork," sneered the champion with a look of Simonian ferocity, "but I'll get you, you—!" There followed a burst of wild cursing. He tried to rush Donald to the ropes, felt for the wind, and let loose a powerful right for the jaw. Paying no attention to the feat, Donald ducked the blow and, countering, shot his left to his opponent's mid-section. The champion grunted aloud, fell into clinch, and hung on grimly. The referee cried:

What Will you do

When your Children Cry for It

There is hardly a household that hasn't heard of Castoria! At least five million homes are never without it. If there are children in your family, there's almost daily need of its comfort. And any night and you very thankful there's a bottle in the house. Just a few drops, and that colic or constipation is relieved, or diarrhoea checked. A vegetable product; a baby remedy made for young folks. Castoria is about the only thing you have ever heard doctors advise giving to infants. Stronger medicines are dangerous to a tiny baby, however harmless they may be to grown-ups. Good old Castoria! Remember the name, and remember to buy it. It may spare you a sleepless, anxious night. It is always ready, always safe to use, in emergencies or for everyday ailments. Any hour of the day or night that Baby becomes fretful, or restless, Castoria was never more popular with mothers than it is today. Every druggist has it.

Fletcher's CASTORIA

W. N. U. 1757

"Are you strong enough, Donnie?" Donald's eyes held a dull glow. "Yes!" he grunted.

Andy patted his arm as the gong rang. "Give 'im 'ell, Donnie!" And then added reverently: "May God give 'im strength."

Donald shot from his corner as though thrown from a catapult to meet Garrieau before he was fairly out of his chair. The spectators held their breath. Was this the man who a minute before had walked staggering and beaten to his chair? When the referee piled the fighters apart after a fierce mix-up in the champion's corner, a puffed eye and a bloody face showed that Garrieau had absorbed severe punishment. Donald was everywhere, dancing in for a fierce rally and out again, always without a return.

The arena fairly rocked to the cheers of the crowd as Donald stood in the centre of the ring and exchanged punches with the champion. Head to head they stood while Donald's arms worked with such lightning speed that the champion's blows were smothered. And, marvel or marvel, the champion was giving stepped back. The punches had become a blur. The tide had turned. With his arms wound about his face the champion retreated. As he eased a lead, Donald's fist smote his face before he could again cover up. Following relentlessly, Donald penetrated his opponent's guard with right and left until the champion's face was a smear of red.

A bedlam of sound came from the audience as they stood on their seats and roared their admiration for the challenger's wonderful exhibition. Andy, his face set, his eyes shining, clung to the corner of the ring.

Garrieau drove heavily at his elusive foe and missed. The impetus swung him to one side. For an instant his chin was without the protective shelter of his shoulder. With a bewilderingly swift move Donald stepped forward, pivoted on his toes, and with the full weight of his powerful young body behind it, he whipped his right to the champion's unprotected jaw. Pop! Garrieau fell upon his face and sprawled like a baboon on the floor. Donald walked to his corner, thrust his gloved hands toward Andy, who stood as though paralyzed, and said: "Take them out, Andy!" His voice was audible throughout the arena. The referee rushed to Donald's side and raised his arm aloft in token of victory.

With a roar the crowd came to its senses to realize that the fight was over. Pandemonium broke loose. A struggling mass of humanity surged into the ring. Every man wanted to shake hands with the new champion, Garrieau, the possessor of the "punch" they had so much admired, was forgotten. The king is dead—long live the king! Such is life, especially in the boxing game!

CHAPTER V.

With much difficulty Donald and his friends forced their way through the cheering throng to the dressing-room. Weak and tired, Donald lay on a cot, while his seconds gently massaged his sore body. Andy moved to the cot and stood looking down on his protégé.

Donald opened his eyes. "Hello, Andy," he smiled weakly.

"Hello, Donald," said Andy huskily, as he patted Donald's dead head.

Donald's hand stole out to meet the warm clasp of his friend.

"Some little fight," said Andy, summoning a smile.

"Not bad," agreed Donald.

Gillis pulled his hat brim down over his eyes to hide his emotion. "I've a good mind to go out and give that brute another licking," he growled.

One of the promoters thrust his head through the door. "Come and get your dough!" he shouted.

"Strike me lucky!" returned Andy, "those words 'ave a pleasant sound."

SUMMER COMPLAINT Nearly Lost Her Little Girl

Mrs. Theodore Bisset, Anthony, Ont., writes:—"Last fall I nearly lost my little girl as she was suffering terribly from summer complaint. She became very thin and weak; had no appetite, and could hardly walk across the room without falling down. At last my mother advised me to get a bottle of and after she had taken a few doses she was relieved.

I also found it a grand remedy for cramps, and would not be without a bottle of it in the house for anything."

Has been on the market for over 30 years; put up only by The T. M. Bisset Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

badminton players find a drink of hot tea of great benefit after a strenuous game. In leading badminton clubs of Canada, Red Rose Tea is a great favorite. No other tea offers such brisk, zesty flavor and rich quality. Put up only in bright, clean aluminum packages.

He picked up a small handbag and left the room. In a few moments he returned, his face beaming. He tapped the satchel. "Chuck full," he said happily.

At the gymnasium they gathered in Andy's room, and for the first time Donald told them of the attempted "frame-up" proposed by Garrieau's manager. Douglas strode across the room and gripped Donald's hand. Not a word was uttered by anyone, but the silence was more eloquent than speech.

They were all in a happy mood after the prolonged strain of the day. Andy, "it's in particularly his spirit," "Gentlemen," he began grandly, "I 'ave before me on the table 'ere a most wonderful little 'andbag. All it 'ad in it this morning was a dirty collar and a shirt stud. Now, making a dramatic gesture, he brought 'em 'ere of plenty!" He turned the satchel upside down and a mass of bills, coins and cheques fell upon the table.

"Ere, Gillis," cried Andy, as he selected a bill, "will you go out and get some champagne, and when you get in the bar buy a drink for the 'ouse. Bring ginger ale for Donnie; 'is manager'll drink 'is share of the wine."

Andy sorted the money into piles and sat quietly counting for a few minutes. "Fifteen thousand and a few odd dollars," he announced.

"What?" ejaculated Donald. He was dazed. "I was told the size of the purse little thought," he said in a surprised tone.

"Oh, the boxin' gyme 'is a great gyme," said Andy.

"Ere," remarked Douglas, "but after 'is fight today I'm going to take up tiddlywinks instead; 'is not so rough."

When the big man returned with the wine Donald turned to Douglas. "It seems that you and Gillis are old friends."

"Yes, Jack's been one of Dad's right-hand men for—how long, Jack?"

"About ten years," replied Gillis.

"And I'm equally interested to know how you and Jack know each other so well," said Douglas curiously.

"I met Donald on the train coming," answered Gillis quickly.

"Come on, boys," cried Andy, "we'll drink to the new champ—Donald's health." Andy held his glass aloft. "Boys, I can't make much of a speech, as I 'ave only 'ad one drink. Stand up while we drink to our Donnie. I know that 'e's goin' to leave me, and that 'e's goin' to give up the boxin' gyme. I know that 'e 'as 'im in 'is 'abit of mixin' with the likes of me. I know that I'm lucky to be blackin' the boots of a man like 'im. But when I know that 'e went into this fight to 'elp a poor little bloke like me out of an 'ole, I'm proud, boys, I'm proud! I've seen many a fight, and I've seen many a gyme man. But strike me blind if Donald didn't this day teach me something about sheer grit. When 'e came stumblin' to me at the end of that—third round—I—"

He stopped. "You know what 'appened," he continued in a husky voice. "I ask nothin' better to 'ave 'im for me pal 'Ere's to the gyme man that ever stepped in shoe-leather!"

Andy turned away quickly to light a cigarette. His eyes were moist. The room was silent.

Donald was deeply moved by his little friend's show of feeling. Douglas broke the silence. "You got back to the Coast just in time, Jack."

"How's that?"

"Dad 'as started on the biggest job that he's tackled yet."

"What is it?"

"Do you remember the big tract of timber that he bought in the Cheakamus Valley?"

"Yes, he bought on my advice," answered Gillis.

"Well, he's going to run a railroad in and build sawmills, and saw the logs right on the spot instead of shipping them to the Coast."

"Good!" said Gillis heartily.

"There's a wonderful stand of timber in that valley."

"But here's the best part of it," Douglas went on eagerly: "Dad's going to send you in to cruise the timber around Summit Lake, and I'm to go around Summit Lake, and I'm to go around Summit Lake."

I was up there last summer."

He turned to Donald. "Will you go with us?"

"I'll be glad to," assented Donald.

"Good!" cried Douglas. "It will be fine camping with you and Jack." Little Andy sat patiently listening to this lively conversation, in which he had been completely ignored. He could contain himself no longer.

"I s'y," he blurted, "an' f'uch a blinkin' dwarf that yow'r forgotten that I'm in this 'ere crowd? Isn't me 'ad above the t'ible? Where the 'ell do I get off on this 'ere bloomin' picnic, I asks you?"

One look into the Australian's seriously comic face with its heavy blond eyebrows wagging up and down set Douglas into paroxysms of laughter. "Andy," he declared, "I'm going to take you along, even if we have to make you 'excess baggage.' Can you cook?"

A GREAT PUZZLE TO CAREFUL PARENTS

One of the greatest puzzles to the careful parent is to know just what medicine to give the little ones. When the child falls ill with griping pains, is seized with cold or fever, refuses food or vomits what he has taken, when he cries a great deal and cannot get the sleep so necessary to the growing child, the parent is in quandary. What is to be done on such occasions? As often as not there is not a suitable medicine in the house. The puzzle is to what to give him to set him right quickly.

It is to meet such emergencies that Baby's Own Tablets were designed. These pleasant little Tablets quickly reduce fever, break up colds, relieve constipation and indigestion and allay teething pains. They quiet the nerves and promote restful health-restoring sleep. They are guaranteed absolutely harmless and safe for even the youngest and most delicate baby.

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Scientist Makes a Strange Discovery

Convinced That Human Body Has Radio Tuning Point

C. R. England, a research scientist of the Bell Telephone laboratories, New York, says that after extensive experiments he was convinced of the soundness of his theory that the human body has a radio tuning point.

The tuning point of his body, he said, was 3.66 metres and was discovered accidentally while he was working on radio oscillators producing very short wave lengths, England explained.

Starting with five metres, he said he worked downward gradually and encountered difficulties when he went below four metres. A search for the cause disclosed that his body was working as a tuned circuit, he said.

HARD LUCK PURSUES HIM

W. Kuyzk, eighteen months ago suffered a broken leg in a mine accident. After treatment in the intervening period, he was compelled to return to hospital some time ago. Last week, thinking a walk would do him good, he was advised by the staff to go for a short walk. He proceeded the distance of a block to the bank when crossing the road he overbalanced on a stone, his leg being yet weak, and in falling again fractured his leg. It was a hard crack for him, as he had contemplated resuming work at the mine in a few days.

NEWS GATHERING

You know, a few years ago it used to be the simplest matter in the world to keep track of the coming and going of the people in most any small town, and the neighboring district. All the reporter on a weekly had to do was "meet the trains," however many there might be, and he was wise. Even in those days a young couple did not clope on foot—they either took the train or hired a livery—and in the latter case the driver was sure to "blab." Then the tandem bicycle helped a little. But now it is a different matter.

Every week we hear of some person who has been away and returned, possibly from an important meeting or visiting their old home town, but by the time the news reaches us it is rather "stale." We would appreciate it if parties visiting or having visitors would please let us know. We simply cannot meet all the cars at the various gas stations, and if we did, we wouldn't know whether it was an elopement or a petting party, for we have had no experience either way.—Morse News.

"TALKIES" COMING—MAYBE

Hilly Cass, manager of Regal Films Ltd., Calgary, and Mr. Brady, of Toronto, general manager of Pathe

Films, Ltd., were visitors to Coleman last Friday and consulted with Andrew Dow of the Palace theatre relative to booking important features for the coming year. Mr. Dow states that so far he has not made any move towards installing the necessary apparatus for "talkies," but there is no doubt that they are coming to the smaller centres as well as the cities.

Here and There

Brandon's first broadcasting station has gone into daily use and a studio located there will give grain and stock reports each day, and once a week, in the evening, will broadcast local concert programmes.

A training school for the encouragement of home industries is being talked of in Winnipeg, following the Folk Song Festival held in that city recently under the auspices of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Montreal, it may be noted, has had for some years classes to teach their native handicrafts to children of foreign-born settlers, who would otherwise be likely not to acquire the skill they would have developed in their own country.

W. N. Beach, a hunter and photographer of wild life who had the unique distinction of finding two different pairs of locked antlers during his career, was a recent visitor to the General Tourist Department of the C. P. R. at Montreal. Locked antlers are very rarely found and one of the two pairs discovered by him are so firmly interlocked that they cannot be pulled apart by two strong men, and to be separated would have to be cut.

"In all my experience I have not previously found so general a feeling of complete confidence in this country and its possibilities as was observed in the cities and districts where we made stops and had an opportunity of talking things over with their representative citizens," was the statement made by E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who has just returned to Montreal from an eight thousand mile tour over the company's western lines, accompanied by a party of directors and Montreal financiers.

Billing and cooling and showing no signs of having their affectionate dispositions dampened by the strain of travel, two cages of Japanese Love Birds passed through the Windsor Station at Montreal recently on their way from Japan to Scotland. Travelling from Kobe on the Empress of Russia and across the Atlantic on the Duchess of Athol, the shipment of twenty eight Cobalt Budgerigars, as they are also called, are under the protective wing of the Canadian Pacific Express throughout. They were of a brilliant blue plumage, long tailed and beak much like a parakeet.

Not only is Canada sufficiently interested in the League of Nations to have the Prime Minister go over to Geneva in person to participate in this year's assembly, but many thousands of active supporters of the movement are now organized throughout the country. According to information given out by the General Secretary of the League of Nations Society in Canada at Ottawa, the membership of that organization has grown in three years from less than a thousand to almost fifteen thousand in number. Although strongly supported by women's organizations of all sorts and descriptions, its character is by no means feminine as over half the members are business men, and in British Columbia 55 per cent. are men.
